Monologue & Audition Prep for Teens

Are you thinking about auditioning for a middle school play, high school play, or a college theater program? You'll need a few good monologues, plus the audition techniques to really put those monologues over. Usually, you'll need to know at least 2 or 3 contrasting pieces COLD, and they'll need to be from published plays...BUT...you don't want to go to an audition with the same monologues that everyone else is performing.

This class is essential in helping you select the pieces that work best to show the auditors who you are, and who you can become. You'll fine-tune the performance of those pieces until you've crafted a top-notch audition piece.

The class concludes with a performance at our Fall Recital!
